

ElderHope Has Station on Pandora

Category : About ElderHope

Published by Chapster on 2009/3/14

We all need a break sometimes. Me, I can concentrate on my work better by listening to meditative music.

A few months ago Barb (ElderHope's best half), introduced me to Pandora.com, an internet radio station that plays what you want to hear. It's a marvelous use of the internet.

Tonight, I created two stations on my profile. If you're interested, feel free to listen. Both of them are meditative, but one is more quiet than the other. Both of them feature what I consider to be emotionally moving music. You can find the stations under my profile which can be found at the following link: <http://www.pandora.com/people/mikethechap>. Should you be utterly bored, while there you can also read a little bit more about me.